

WHY COME TO CAMP AT ROSS CREEK?

At Ross Creek, we know how important it is to give all youth opportunities to explore the arts and find new ways to express themselves creatively. Our March Break day camps offer both skill development and fun with professional artist educators, great camp staff, indoor and outdoor recreation, and delicious food – all in a gorgeous setting.

Visit our website to learn about all of Ross Creek's arts camps and volunteer opportunities, as well as our extensive year-round arts programming!

“Both our kiddos attended your camp and absolutely loved it. It is opportunities such as this that makes our parental hearts happy, and our souls filled with joy, so a huge thank you. THANK YOU.”

– Ross Creek Camp Parent

WHO WE ARE: A HUB FOR CREATIVITY!

Ross Creek Centre for the Arts is a non-profit charitable organization that brings together the best in arts education, live performance, arts camps, community, nature, and professional artist programs.

WHAT WE DO: ARTS PROGRAMS AND MORE

Come be inspired by outstanding programs and our stunning landscape. From incredible youth camps and pre-professional teen programs to award-winning professional theatre, adult art classes, and international artists-in-residence, we facilitate lifelong education in and through the arts and creative community engagement.

WHERE WE ARE: ON THE BAY OF FUNDY

Ross Creek is a world-class arts facility on a beautiful campus overlooking the Bay of Fundy in Nova Scotia. We are only 20 minutes from Wolfville, and just over an hour from Halifax and the international airport.

Rest at home if you're sick! We want to be a healthy space for all, and if you are ill with COVID or the flu, we'll give a credit for another camp or a refund, or you can turn it into a donation! We don't require masks but welcome them if your family is more comfortable.

"... The joyous, welcoming and true love that Ross Creek shows to our kids and their individual personalities is what brings us back to Ross Creek each year. "

– Ross Creek Camp Parent

"I had a great week, this camp has changed my life. There is so many people that get me and that are like me!"

– Ross Creek Camper

"Ross Creek camps have themes but also allow [My Child] to be an individual and express his creative and imaginative side with no pressure to do it exactly like everyone else."
